MR. GREELEY AND SECESSION—
WHAT HE WILL DO IF PRES-IDENT.

Hon Philip Clayton, of Georgia, in a recent letter denouncing the democratically bargain and sale with Mr. Greeley. made a very pointed objection to the presidential candidacy of the ex-editor of the Tribune, which acquires pungency and force in the light of Mr. Greeley's dissatisfied states to leave the Union if they "really wish to get out." Here is what Mr. Clayton, of Georgia says:

"I have another objection to Mr.
Greeley, to which, perhaps, you will express some surprise, knowing as you do my views upon the subject to which I am about to refer. If you do not know it—you might as well be informed, and all the north—that there is not a southern state that would not willingly leave the Union to-morrow, if they could do so unmolested. If Mr. Greeley is elected, with his known record on the subject of secession, the question might be precipitated. If the president, who has charge of the army and navy, did not prevent it what would be the consequence? The union might be imperiled by a trick, and the result might be more disastrous than the late effort of the confederate states. The late unfortunate conflict has demonstrated to my mind the folly of attempting a dissolution of the union, unless by consent of the parties.
This may be brought about in two legitimate ways—first, when their interests—and I mean by their, the majority —are not promoted by its further continuance; and second, if any political organization in this country should advocate imperialism."

Should this republic be destined to the misfortune of having Horace Greeley for president, in view of the undoubted hostility and disloyalty which smoulder in the south the patriot may reasonably ask, "What would he do if president, and there should be in any form a renewal of the attempt to dissolve the Union?"

What Mr. Greeley has said is probably a good guide for what he may do —or would be if he were not, as he is, so erratic, vainglorious, and self-sufficient. His record in 1860-61 will go far to prove the insecurity which must always be part of such a career.

When the south began to speak in earnest about secession, and the establishment of a southern confederacy, Mr. Greeley did not dissuade them, but gave them encouraging "aid and comfort," as will be seen by the following extracts from his paper:

"As to secession, I have said repeatedly, and here repeat, that, if the people of the slave states, or of the cotton states alone, really wish to get out of the Union, I am in favor of letting them out, as soon as that result can be peacefully and constitutionally attained.
But their case can not be so urgent as to require that the president and his subordinates should jeopard themselves in deference to its requirements. If they will only be patient, not rush and seize federal forts, arsenals, arms, and subtreasuries, but take first deliberately a fair vote by ballot of their own citizens, none being coerced nor intimidated, and that vote shall indicate a settled resolve to get out of the union, I will do all I can to help them out at an early day."—From the New York Tribune of January 24, 1861.

"What I demand is proof that the southern people really desire separation from the Free States. Whenever assured that such is their settled wish, I shall joyfully co-operate with them to secure the end they seek. Thus far I have had evidence of nothing but a purpose to bully and coerce the north.
Many of the secession emissaries to the Border slave states either are, or seem to be, in favor of this, the present men acing front of secession proves nothing to the purpose. Maryland and Virginia have no idea of breaking up the Union, but they would both dearly like to bully the North into a compromise.
Their secession demonstrations prove just this, and nothing more."—From the New York Tribune of January 21, 1861.

"We have steadfastly affirmed and upheld Mr. Jefferson's doctrine, embodied in the Declaration of American Independence, of the right of revolution. We have insisted, and its exercise if properly attempted, it ought not to be necessary to subject all concerned to the woes and horrors of civil war. In other words, what one party has a right to do, another can have no right to resist. And we have tried that, had the great mass of the southern people really desired a dissolution of the union, and been willing to exercise a reasonable patience, their end might have been attended with devastation and carnage: for we, with thousands more in the north, would have done all in our power to induce our fellow citizens to defer to their request and let them go in peace. Hence we have contended that the violent, terrorist, outrageous proceedings of the southern Jacobins—their seizure of the National arsenals, armories, arsenals, sub-treasuries, &c., culminating in the bombardment of Fort Sumter—were not inexcusable in themselves, but signally calculated to defeat the end they professed to have in view. Take the case of our own Pacific Empire as a further illustration. No doubt, the people of California and Oregon are to-day loyal and fervent in their devotion to the Union.

But they are mainly natives of the Atlantic and Gulf states—"bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh"—and their loyalty is a matter of education, of feeling, and of habit. Fifty years hence, when our Pacific coast shall have a population of ten or twelve millions, mainly born on that slope, it will be very different. Now, should the time arrive in our day when the great body of the people of our Pacific States shall say deliberately, kindly firmly, to those this side of the Rocky Mountains, "You are stronger than we—older, more wealthy, more powerful—but we ask you to let us go; for we believe we can do better by ourselves than with you." —we shall respond, and urge others to respond, "Go in peace, and Heaven's blessing attend you." We believe that is the right, the wise, the Christian answer to such a request, and that the world will yet perceive and recognize the truth."—From the Tribune of May 14, 1862.

TAKING MEDICINE.
BY MIDDLESONE MATTY, M. D.

One of the strangest things under heaven is the way in which the masses intrust their health and very lives, without any if's or and's, whys and wherefores, in the care of those who have succeeded in having M. D. attached to their names. When a person is about to invest a large amount of money, or dispose of valuable property, if that person is fit to transact business he never intrusts his interests to the care of others; but he brings all his powers to bear upon the subject: he gets all the information he can, perhaps profits by the advice of his skillful neighbor, and with the sum total of their judgments and experiences will and dares to make the investment, or effect the sale. Far different in medicine. Most persons break the laws of health with as little concern as they would toss a ball into the air. This is owing to ignorance. Perhaps these laws are broken by exposure to cold draughts of air when heated, or by overloading the stomach with rich, indigestible food swallowed whole, and sickness results, instead of asking yourself "What have I done to produce this diseased condition of my body, and what shall I do to restore it to health?" or going to your physicians and anatomies for information, you straightway kept on breaking the laws of health, send for a physician who feels your pulse, looks at your tongue, asks you every question but the right one, pronounces you sick, which you already know, prescribes some Latinized medicine, your mouth flies open and like young robins you swallow it down with as much faith as a Catholic counts his beads, thinking you will recover because the doctor says so, and because you understand so little of the danger of trifling with the laws of health, and the inefficacy of drugs to effect a cure. If the constitution be strong, and the breach of nature's laws slight, Nature may rally and in spite of drugs throw off the disease; but I say unto you that such an utter disregard of the laws of health, and intrust-ing your lives in the hands of others will prematurely dig your grave for you.

You spend hour after hour, day after day, reading sensational literature which poisons the mind, when the same amount of time spent in studying physiology and anatomy would put you in possession of facts that would keep pounds of poison out of your body and save you from the thousands of ills that afflict you. Then when you took cold, you would not send for a doctor to tell you what is the matter, but you would know at once, and you would say, the millions of pores throughout my body are closed; the four pounds of matter that should pass off daily is retained, and I must throw upon those little mouths immediately by some little simple tea, and by wrapping myself in blankets until perspiration is produced, and then I must rub my body dry with a coarse towel, and I shall be well again; and when you overloaded your stomach and swallowed your food whole, you would say I must stop eating for a day and drink cold water, and begin again by eating wholesome food, and masticating it thoroughly and my body will soon be healthy again.

Now suppose you had waited until sick enough and then sent for a physician, and he had Latinized you with drugs, and the fact that you being too ill to eat had allowed the superabun-dant food to pass off, and you recover sufficiently to swallow more indigestible food and get ill again in consequence. How many times think you will your system bear this rack and torture way of dealing with your fearfully and wonderfully made organism?

Those who are ignorant of the laws of health are treading on dangerous ground, which at any moment is liable to put an end to their existence. Ten thousand facts stare us in the face to prove this assertion.

Look over the world and see how many millions there are bewailing the loss of health. Sound bodies are today almost the exception instead of the rule. Nearly every unnatural premature death in the world is caused through ignorance of the laws of health and a willingness to entrust life and health to the care of those who depend upon sickness for a living. Go to the capboard of nearly every family in the land, and you will find bottle after bottle of patent medicines standing there, that two or three times a day finds its way into the stomach of some one of that poor, ignorant, trusting family, depleting the purse, and working incalculable injury to the system, and all for the want of just a little anatomical and physiological knowledge. The cost of one bottle of patent medicine would purchase the necessary books to instruct you; and the hours that you suffer, groan and lament over your lost health would be sufficient time to put you in possession of facts that would,

as far as you were interested, consign every bottle of patent medicine to an eternal grave where it belongs, and if not too far gone with disease you might restore your body to a healthy condition and live to a good old age.

To prove the efficacy of knowledge and observation of the laws of health we have but to refer to numbers of facts on record of mere wrecks of humanity attaining great longevity by simply understanding and obeying Nature's laws.

And to prove the inefficacy of drugs and physicians we have but to go into our crowded graveyards all over the land and read how many are cut down in the flower of youth; and then look abroad again, and see how many millions there are who are constantly dosing with medicine, and under a physicians care without a particle of relief; and again the dying testimony of physicians, after a life time of practice, that exercise, air and diet are the three best physician's in the world.

If these facts are not convincing proofs that an understanding and observance of the laws of health are infinitely superior to drugs and physicians in keeping and restoring health, then we think, although one should rise from the dead and proclaim these facts you would not believe.

COLORADO ANTIQUITIES.
It is very generally supposed that evidences of the former settlement of the west by civilized or even partly civilized races of men do not exist within the limits of Colorado. This is a popular error. It is perhaps true that Arizona and portions of New Mexico exhibit in greater abundance evidence of the presence of a by-gone and forgotten race, but they are by no means entirely lacking in Colorado.
On the Las Animas river in the county of the same name there are multiplied proofs of the former habitations of a race of men entirely different in their habits and mode of living from the savage tribes of the plains. These proofs consist of the remains of stone houses, traces of irrigating ditches, broken pottery, stone trays which were evidently used for crushing grain, and earthen pipes of an entirely different shape and make from any in use among the savages. On San Francisco creek and the Chicosa in the same county, the same evidence of the occupation of the country by an extinct race are abundant. On the stream last named, there is the course of an ancient ditch evidently made for irrigating purposes, plainly and distinctly traceable for miles. At Cannon City in Fremont county, relics of the same nature were found on the first settlement of that place. We have in our possession an unfinished stone pipe which we found a foot beneath the surface of the earth, on the site of that town as late as the year 1861. It is true that the manufacture of stone pipes is common to all the tribes of Indians, but their workmanship is easily known to any one who has familiarized himself in the least degree with the subject.

The pipe in question is identical in form and material with those found at Trinidad among the remains of ancient houses, and entirely different from those made by any of the tribes of wild Indians. In view of these facts not generally known, there is the best possible reason for believing that Colorado is a fruitful field for the researches of archaeologists. Who these strange people were and how they became extinct are questions well worthy of intelligent inquiry and research.—Pueblo People.

London, August 18.—Dispatches from Belfast, up to noon to-day, state that the disturbances there continued through Saturday night into Sunday, and were not yet ended. The populace was divided into hostile Catholic and Protestant mobs. Whenever they came in contact there was a fight. The police were using every effort to stop the rioting. They had been obliged to fire on the rioters on both sides, and many of the latter were wounded.
Troops with fixed bayonets, now occupy the principal streets and keep the mobs apart. The dragons of the fortieth regiment have arrived at Belfast from Dublin, and the constabulary were pouring into the city from all parts. No persons are reported killed, but the excitement is so great that it is impossible to get definite information.

A gentleman dining at a cheap restaurant, the other day was heard to give the following courageous order:
"Waiter, let the cheese move this way."

GOOD NEWS TO PEACH GROWERS.
The St Joseph Herald gives the result of the application of hot water and ashes to peach trees, to eradicate the yellows: "The yellows which have been such a bane to peach orchards, promises so to continue no longer.
Simultaneously from the east, south, and west, comes word that the tree resolves, puts forth new foliage, and ripens its fruits under the influence of hot water and ashes. John Whittlesey, Esq., was the first in this vicinity to announce the discovery of fungoid disease at the root of the tree. Mr.
Thomas Meehan, of the Gardner's Monthly, shortly after announced his investigation in the same direction.
The investigation of Prof. Kediz, of Lansing State Agricultural College, on the yellow led to the same conclusion.
We are safe in saying that the right direction has at last been reached in the investigation of this disease and its remedy. As yet the subject has not been exhausted, nor has certainty been reached in the eradication or cure of the evil. This, however, is certain that the application of hot water and ashes has saved many trees. Query—is this due to the action of heat alone; and if so would not a peck of unslacked lime about the collar of the tree, well covered up by slacking, produce heat enough to accomplish the same result? Every tree in every orchard ought to have a pail of hot water poured around the collar of the tree every spring. This would accomplish two results; namely: It would kill the peach borer or grub, and arrest the yellow in its incipient stages. Either one of these results would amply compensate the labor involved.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin says: "As is probably well known, some few weeks since, Mrs. Abraham Lincoln passed this city on her way to Waukesha, there to partake of the celebrated Bethesda water for a dropsical affection, and that she had found the effect of the water so beneficial and so delightful for a summer visit that she still remains there. Previous to her coming to Waukesha, Mrs. Lincoln, as was stated, visited in the east several spiritual mediums, some of the most celebrated in the country, with whom she had interviews; many of which to her infinite satisfaction. Yesterday she came to Milwaukee on the morning train for the purpose of visiting a medium in this city, whose quarters are located in Market Square, and whose reputation for being able to commune with the spirits of the departed has extended far beyond the limits of her own city. At the depot Mrs. Lincoln was met by a well-known citizen, a believer of spiritualistic communion, who escorted her to the sanctum of the medium. The interview took place, and was, we are told, most satisfactory.
Scarcely had she seated herself when the medium informed her that the spirits of Tad and her husband were present, and with them she conversed for some time. The particulars of the interview we did not learn. A few hours after she had finished her seance with the medium she left the city, to return to Waukesha, seeing but few persons during her visit here, and these only persons of previous acquaintance, or with whom she was brought in contact in her visit to the medium.

General Joseph E. Johnson, ex-confederate army, writes in his letter: "As Mr. Greeley has been nominated by our party I sincerely hope every democrat will vote for him."

That's it! Our party. How is it then, Messrs. Liberal Reform-Republicans, that you entreat and urge that that Horace Greeley, having never been anything but a republican, all republicans should vote for him, and urge that, of course, all democrats will vote for General Grant because he was always a democrat? It will not do.

The democrats are welcome to Mr.
Greeley, if they can swallow one made up of so many contrary beliefs and isms but the republican party feel safe in following the leader, who, bringing to a safe end the attempt to destroy our Union, has enforced the laws, and made the authority and flag of the United States respected. The friends of Mr.
Greeley are chiefly those who attempted their overthrow, and see in his election only another means to attain their ends.—Broad's d.

Reports tells us that the Irish people are in trouble, again fighting each other as clans or sects. Poor business.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Governor Caldwell has informed the public in a despatch from Raleigh, that the official figures of the late North Carolina election cannot be known till after the meeting of the legislature on the third Monday in November next, when the returns will be opened before the two houses and the results declared. As it thus appears that this official announcement will not occur till a fortnight or so after the presidential election, it is a matter of no consequence; for the present we must be content with the governor's estimate that Caldwell's majority will range from eighteen hundred to twenty-five hundred, there or thereabouts.—Herald.

There has been placed in the cham-eleon's case in the reptile house of the zoological Garden, Regent's Park, a very fine specimen of the horned frog.
These creatures which partake of the nature of lizards, are not unknown to English naturalists, but none of them have lived long in the gardens of the society. There is more hope for this specimen, however, as the strength of his constitution has been thoroughly tested. He was posted by an Irish lady residing at San Diego, Southern California, on the 28th of May, by book post, registered, as a present to her son-in-law, a gentleman residing near London. The package, the covering of which consisted merely of a thin pasteboard box, was delivered at Finch-ley on Monday evening, having occupied just four weeks in transit. During that time the little traveler could have had nothing to eat, and probably the change of temperature and the virtual exclusion of air tended to render him torpid. Any how he was alive if not very active, and was not long in the residence of the chameleon, at a temperature of 70 degrees, before he began to manifest tokens of revivification.
The "greaser" visitor, from a distance of six thousand miles, will remain on exhibition for a few days. A letter from the lady who forwarded this strange present says that these frogs are habitual pets of the San Diego children, and are perfectly harmless and capable of living six months without food.—London News.

Wahall Phillips explodes the Sumner fallacy that Horace Greeley was an original abolitionist, in his usual trenchant style, as follows. He says: "We abolitionists knew him only too well in the weary years of our struggle. He had enough of clear moral vision to see the justice of our cause. But he never had courage enough to confess his faith. If events had ever given him the courage, he never would have had principle enough to risk anything for an idea. A trimmer by nature and purpose, he has abused even an American politician's privilege of trading principles of success. But for lack of ability he would have been the chief time server of his age." This cutting rebuke of Mr. Greeley's time serving as a politician is only more severe and deserved than the implied censure contained in it of Mr. Sumner's falsification of history and truth in trying to make the southern blacks believe that Greeley is and has always been their best friend. That falsehood is exploded, and what little effect it had when it was disseminated before this.—Cleveland Leader.

Catholic acid, which after a run of popularity quite equal to any which has been enjoyed by a chemical product, has somewhat subsided into the position of an ordinary article. It has had its fame somewhat renewed by its employment in an uncommon direction: The tanners have taken possession of it, and find by experiment that it is just the thing for them in the hot days of July and August. One of their greatest troubles has been to preserve hides from decomposition at this period, and they have been obliged at times to employ very strong measures with them; while, while they preserved the hides, spoiled them to a certain degree by making the leather less valuable than it would have been if it could have been subjected to the regular treatment of the tannard. It is found that carbolic acid preserves the hides from decay, and it is even said improves the leather to such a degree that the tanners all wonder why they did not find out the usefulness of the article before.

The invention of a new religion is the favorite trade of lazy and covetous imsonably successful in that line, but his Recently Rev. Mr. Dennison, of Washington, City, came out in the papers with an article in regard to the president's drinking habits. Many vague charges of that sort have been sent out, but we have seen nothing definite to the point—over any responsible name where it was truthfully stated, I know Grant to be a drunkard. When Mr. Dennison's charge appeared we thought there was to be found the desired information, but instead of that it is made up of charges, without a single name to sustain them. In this style an allegation is made, and the writer says, "witnesses can be brought to prove them—that is as near as he comes to making a point, with one exception, which is this: Senator Wilson, the writer says, stated this—President Grant drinks too much—I have told him so. And he says, Mr. Wilson will not deny this. But he does deny it, and that in a very definite way, as follows:

"I do deny it in the most emphatic language that I ever said anything of the kind to you or anything that resembled it. Your statement is unqualifiedly false. During the last nine years I have seen General Grant hundreds of times. I have seen him in his camp, in his family, at his own table, at the tables of others, at home and abroad, and I have never seen him under the influence of intoxicating liquors."

That is pretty square talk, and in language that cannot be misunderstood. In addition to Senator Wilson's statement there is a corroboration of what he says by Mrs. Buel, a teacher in the president's family. She says in answer to the charge of intemperance by the president, "A more malicious falsehood was never stated." The writer then goes on to specify that she has been a teacher of the president's children ever since 1863, and avers distinctly that she knows whereof she states.

No doubt Mr. Dennison is impressed with the idea that his statements are correct, but how far would such averments go in a court of justice toward proving a man guilty even of sheep stealing? This is so, and that is so, and witnesses can be brought to prove this and so, is the style of Mr. Dennison's charges. Is a man's character to be impugned and destroyed by such vague charges? It won't do. Senator Wilson, a life long temperance man, is not likely to be deceived in this thing. Nobody claims that the president is a total abstinence man, neither is Theodore Tilton—nay Tilton spurns such a practice as asceticism—but is either there a drunkard? By no means. With Mr. Wilson, we wish the president was a teetotaler, but we can't force such an idea into him.

It is now but few weeks until the election, and it is high time that some organization be effected, if anything of the sort is to be done here. We have up to this date (26th) no Grant or even Greeley Club, while in every other place almost such organizations are in active existence. Our people expect to do some voting, and if they need party machinery to wake them up it is quite time such agency were put in motion. It is not necessary to go to great expense to secure an organization—something simple, which will and must work, is the most that is requisite. Then our people look for speakers—are we to have any?

State conventions were held on the 21st inst., in New York, which nominated Gen. Dix, republican, for governor; or, in Iowa, Georgia, Arkansas, South Carolina, all republican—and in Tennessee and Missouri by the Greeleyites. Various offices are to be filled in the states named. The idea is prevalent that Gen. Dix and Gen. Grant will carry New York. Gen. Dix is the man who gave the highly patriotic order during the war, "If any man attempts to haul down the American flag shoot him on the spot." It did not take much coaxing to shoot men who would tear down the flag in those days.

In giving its twenty-one reasons for voting for Greeley a Greeleyite paper—an old true blue democrat of the Naaby whisky sort—says in No. 4—"Because Greeley has pledged himself to a course of action in harmony with the principles of the democratic party, and in no other way than by his election can the people hope to see them once more in the ascendant." That's so.

It is all very well for the Tribune to appropriate dozens of its broad columns to try to prove that Henry Wilson was a known nothing, an order of men dead some twenty-five or thirty years, but it is a terrible thing to charge upon its would be president editor the fact of his co-operating, or excusing, or palliating the course of leading rebels in the late war. This is a little like much of the modern preaching which is awfully opposed to Pharaoh, the Philistines, Pharisees and other ancient transgressors, while the modern drunkard maker and other sinners of equal turpitude are permitted to run loose unnoticed. What has know nothingism to do with the politics of these times? The leaders of the late rebellion are not to be forgotten, as they have the same spirit yet that animated them in the late war.

An anxious politician the other day, full of Greeley enthusiasm, while traveling on the Massillon and Cleveland road proposed to take a vote—as is very common these days. The result was, he found out of 30 voters 7 were for Greeley and 23 for Grant. He did not ask for more voting in that car.

Gov. Noyes visited Cleveland one day last week, and in the evening made a speech. The number present and participating in the meeting is estimated at from 12,000 to 15,000. This looks as if there are some yet who have not lost faith in the administration.

A correspondent in to-day's paper scolds somebody pretty sharply. Doubtless he thinks somebody deserves it, or he would not go for them so decidedly. As far as we know our marshal tries to perform his duty, but he can't be everywhere at once.

One of the funny things of these days is the idea of the N. Y. Tribune denouncing Mr. Garrison as a disunionist. See article on first page written by Mr. Greeley, and published in the Tribune about ten years ago, square out in favor of secession—if it is done as the writer prescribes.

The Ohio State Fair begins on Monday, Sept. 2d, at Mansfield, and will continue four days. The managers have been making every effort to make the fair a success, and all the required buildings are said to be in readiness for visitors. Railroads are said to be doing the fair thing in the way of carrying passengers and freight to and from the fair. Massillon will be liberally represented.

The yearly meeting of the society of Friends, known as Orthodox, will be held at Damascus, Mahoning county, commencing to-morrow, the 29th inst.

On the 21st inst. the association of scientific men of this country convened at Dubuque, and will continue in session for several days. A variety of questions will be brought up for discussion, such as are appropriate for occasions of this character. Meetings for this purpose have been held annually for several years, and they seem to increase in interest.

Messrs. Editors.—In your last weeks issue you omitted to chronicle a very interesting musical performance, at a late hour on Saturday night, the 15th inst., by a few of the select class of our town. The spirit of music seemed to have taken full possession of these promising boys, as a few of the residents of Main and Prospect, East and Hill streets, can testify. To attempt to enumerate all that was said, sung and done on the occasion would be simply vain, for no adequate idea of the entertainment could be obtained short of being within hearing distance. The programme, no doubt, was intended to be up to the highest standard of first class performers, yet some trifling irregularities certainly crept into the performance, which may not, I admit, detract very materially from its worth, as we know it to have been conducted by very excellent leaders. Now, Mr. Editor, would it not be in the absence of a mother's guardian care, to commend these precocious youth to the tender mercies of the Marshal or the nightwatch were we fortunate enough to have such, whose tender sensibilities did not revolt at the idea of laying violent hands on privileged respectability however much they might solo and chorus at an early hour of a Sabbath morning—"Drink it down—Drink it down, and other favorite sentiments musically uttered under the same spiritual influence.

Query, What has become of the nine o'clock ordinance? A. CITIZEN.

The following is a list of States yet to hold elections prior to November 5th: Vermont, September 3; Maine, September 8; Indiana, October 3; Iowa, October 8; Nebraska, October 8; Ohio, October 8; Pennsylvania, October 8; South Carolina, October 16.

At a Greeley meeting at Bloomfield, Scott county, Illinois, on the evening of the 14th inst., the audience shook hands across the bloody chasm by cheering lustily for Jeff Davis. How this work would have thrilled Uncle Horace's sensitive soul if he had been there.

GOVERNMENT SECESSION IN AFRICA.—From the Cape of Good Hope, under date of June 28, we are informed of the continuance, and increase, of the popular agitation having for its object the attainment of a governmental secession which would result in creating an entire separation of the Eastern province from the West. The manner in which the responsible Government of the English royalist class by a majority of one in a full assembly of the Legislature, and then hurried off to Downing street for the signature of Queen Victoria, in the face of the utterance of a strong local protest calling for delay and a general election, affords impetus to the radical movement and supplies a new stimulus to the irritation already existing in the public mind. Port Elizabeth and Graham's Town are deeply moved. A subscription list was opened in Port Elizabeth just previous to the departure of our despatches to collect a fund for defraying the expenses of the city branch of the Eastern Province Separation League. One trading firm gave the sum of five hundred pounds sterling as a contribution of the house, making, with the aid of thirty-five townsmen, the total foot up two thousand three hundred and seventy pounds sterling in one day. This is what may be termed colonial pluck. It affords a substantial premonitory warning of the near approach of the moment when all the colonial offshoots of England will come to stand erect in their manhood for self-rule and the right to manage their own affairs. When that consummation has been accomplished England must become exceedingly staid in her manner of dealing with the enfranchised peoples, lest they may undertake to form new alliances and turn their eyes towards a more powerful and grand democratic center than will ever be fixed on the shores of the Thames.

Dubuque, Iowa, Aug. 24.—The fourth day's session of the Scientific Congress was interesting and well attended. Prof. G. W. Hough, director of the Dudley observatory, read a paper on the so-called velocity of the electric current over telegraph wires, suggesting the new theory that the so-called velocity was nothing but mechanical condition, and that there was no such thing as velocity of the electric wave. Prof. Daniel Kirkwood read a paper on binary stars, illustrating his subject by diagrams. J. C. Seaman had a new theory of light, based upon principles of attraction. J. C. Swallow of Missouri, one of the principal movers in the Maine liquor law, read a paper on Good Wine—A Social and National Good. During the reading of this, the audience became excited and turbulent, and was called to order frequently. C. H. Hitchcock of New Hampshire told the story of recent geological discoveries among the White Hills of that state. E. B. Andrews talked upon the origin of limestone in coal measures. Miss J. Swain, of Iowa read an interesting paper on Why we Differ; or Love of Variety. Prof. G. Forsyth of New Orleans occupied the whole evening in the reading of an elaborate paper on Physics of the Mississippi river. It was principally an appeal to the national government to repair the levees of the Delta.

The band of the British Grenadiers played at a concert in the Royal Albert Hall soon after their return to London: and one of their selections was "The Star-Spangled Banner." The audience rose during the performance of our national air, and one of the smaller London papers makes some weak remarks about the maudlin sentiment of such a demonstration. But Mr. Dan Godfrey, having no doubt pleasant recollections of his recent visit to America, chose a very appropriate way of expressing them, and it seems ungracious to quarrel with the audience because they appreciated and chose to join in the compliment. To Englishmen there is nothing particularly "maudlin" or "gushing" in the action to which we refer. They always rise to hear "God Save the Queen," and ever since old George the Second got upon his royal legs to do honor to Mr. Handel, they have made it a religious duty to stand all through the "Hallelujah" chorals.

Next to the expulsion of the Jesuits, the subject most discussed in Germany just now is the necessity of reducing the flow of emigration to the United States. The vast increase of emigration this year seems to have awakened the Government to the realization of its loss, and the cue is given to the semi-official and conservative press to raise the cry of alarm, which they are doing with a vim. The Berlin newspapers are filled with doleful accounts from various districts where villages have been almost depopulated by the "American fever," and as a remedy, they demand the levying of an emigration tax of 50 thalers on every adult emigrant leaving the country.

The New York Herald publishes an interview with Charles O'Connor on the subject of the Louisville convention. Personally O'Connor has the warmest regard for Greeley, and personally he would support him, but would not do so on principle. If the straight-out Democrats at Louisville nominate straight-out Democratic candidates he certainly shall support them. O'Connor was reticent on the subject of accepting the Louisville nomination should such be tendered him, and is prepared to refrain from expressing his sentiments in that respect until he issues a card placing his sentiments regarding the canvass before the public.

CINCINNATI, August 26.—The Chronicle's Wheeling, W. Va., special says that thirty-one counties reported up to noon to-day gave Jacobus 5,298 majority. Twenty-eight counties gave thirteen hundred and sixty-seven majority against the constitution. Davis, independent Democrat, is elected to Congress from this district.

New York, Aug. 26.—A Herald special from Geneva says, the work of the court of arbitration is drawing to a close, all the legal arguments of the council having been submitted to the court and the accountants are engaged in calculating the amount of damages occasioned by the rebel cruisers. When the accountants have completed this duty and certified the totals, the arbitrators will render a court decision made up on the issue whether England is responsible for each cruiser, and if so what sum should she pay in recompense of the American loss.

Among the remarkable mineral discoveries recently made in Utah is that of a bismuth mine, the only real bismuth mine, so far as is known, in the country. It has heretofore been almost exclusively found in Saxony, and its production has been held as a monopoly by the Saxon Government.

On the 17th inst., at night, a fire broke out at Salem which resulted in the destruction of the Perry stove works. The loss is estimated at about $10,000, the half covered with insurance. It is said the establishment will be rebuilt immediately.

To Mr. Ed Focke we are indebted for a budget of St. Louis papers. We are pleased to learn that Ed is accumulating property there, and is doing well—the way in which many Massillon boys are getting along in the world.

Still the hot comes. Several days last week the mercury was for days in succession up to 90, and last Friday it rose to 90 in the shade. Showers at intervals did not seem to cool the air any length of time.

A lawsuit in which title to property in this city was the question engaged the attention of the district court, and many of our citizens for days past at Canton. Ex-governor Lee was a prominent attorney for the plaintiff, and Judge Ranney for the defense—aided by our members of the bar at home—Mr. Folger for plaintiff and Mr. Pease for defense.

After a hearing by the court the case of Burris and others was left undecided until the 9th of October to which time it adj'd.

Unless the names of towns which used to be in Columbiana county have been changed within a few years the papers and writers of that and other counties are constantly making mistakes in this matter. Having lived in that county some fifty years, a large portion of them in Hanover township, we never knew that the village in that township was called anything but Hanover. But now we see that the quiet little place weighs a ton—everybody who writes about it or at the village calls it Hanover. The postoffice used to be called Hanoverton, but the town never until of late. Then there is Damascus, which used to be in Columbiana county, but is now in Mahoning. Everybody who writes at the place or about it calling it Damascusville. That used to be the name of the post office there, but the old settlers of that vicinity, a large number of whom were the Stanleys, never knew the village by any other name than Damascus—nor did anybody else. Just when these places have been newly christened we have never been able to find out, or if done at all it has been brought about very shyly. Yet there is a possibility that the modern names by which they are known were the original ones—Hanoverton and Damascusville—and the familiar names, Hanover and Damascus are but nicknames. Who can tell about this? The public records of Columbiana county ought to decide the question.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday Ev'g, Aug. 21th, 1872. The council met in regular session and was called to order by the president. Members present—Messrs. Willenborg, Folger, Oberlin, Altkruse, Gise, and Kirkland.

The reading of the minutes of last meeting was dispensed with.

Mr. Folger, from the committee on claims, to whom was recommended the claim of the chief engineer of the fire department, for $100 for services rendered, submitted a written report recommending the payment of the above claim.

On motion of Mr. Gise the report was accepted.

Mr. Kirkland moved to amend by striking out the amount, $100.—Not on prevailed.

Mr. Kirkland then moved to insert $50 as the amount of compensation to be allowed the chief engineer, which motion also prevailed.

Mr. Folger from the committee on claims, reported an ordinance fixing the salary of the chief engineer of the fire department of the city of Massillon, which received its first reading.

The ordinance to prohibit the building of fires on the streets and other public grounds in the city of Massillon, was on motion, indefinitely postponed.

The German people who so keenly enjoy music are to have a musical entertainment (sawgefest—singing fest) at Wooster on the 29th and 30th insts. Massillon will be represented there by the society of this place. Instrumental as well as vocal music comprises part of the programme. Can't such an entertainment be held here before long?

A county prohibition convention meets at Alliance to-day for the purpose of placing temperance candidates in nomination for county officers. We received this notice too late or it would have appeared last week.

Bro H. D. McGaw of Pennsylvania, an earnest and successful worker in behalf of temperance, has been engaged by the grand lodge of Ohio (I. O. G. He has been at work in the counties east of us, and so far as we can ascertain is making very favorable impressions in favor of the great cause he has so much at heart.

THE "LIGHT RUNNING" "DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINE.

As a Family Sewing Machine challenge ANY AND ALL other Sewing Machines in Perfection of its Tension, in its wonderful power, and in its Great Durability,

It will sew with three hundred cotton, and without moving its tension will sew forty times. A feat which can be successfully accomplished on no other machine. It is not only the best family and tailor's machine, but is well adapted to sewing leather. Its range of work is much greater than any other machine, as can be proved by the great variety of work which it is successfully accomplishing in the different shops and families in this city. At home but recently introduced it meets with greater sales than any other machine.

We continue to sell the celebrated American Sewing Machines, with their very recent improvements. Also the new American No. 2, which is adapted to both family and shop work. We have not only the very machine, but the greatest variety of styles ever offered in this market. They are insured as long as any other responsible agent dare insure his. We sell at wholesale, needles and oil.

These machines may be seen at John Lowe's Sewing Machine Depot, second floor, opera block, Massillon, Ohio, and see them [750] GRAY BROS.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delicious as the summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is general debility. Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach and half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, and requires a remedy which will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regains its tone. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is languid and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, energizer, and restorative is more generally appreciated. It is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant, and it is known by the people of the Bitters, made of acid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. The name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisoning. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

The following notice may be seen on a blacksmith's shop in Essex: "No horses shod on Sunday except sickness and death."

"Albany has four hundred dwelling houses, and two thousand four hundred inhabitants, all standing with their stable ends to the streets." So it was printed in a school geography not long ago.

"What makes you look so glum, Tom? Because I've just had to endure a trial to my feelings." "What on earth was that?" "Why, I had to tie a pretty girl's bonnet while her mother was looking on."

A snob once asked a laboring man what part he performed in the great drama of life. "I mind my own business and pay my way," was the reply.

To flatter people adroitly one must know three things: what they really are, what they think they are, and what they want other people to think they are.

The Greeley papers are hard to please. When Grant goes away for a little vacation—as he does about once a week— they say he is off neglecting his duties. When he remains in Washington they charge him with being there to run the government in the interests of his family.

Every accusation that the democrats have made against General Grant and his administration, either at Baltimore or elsewhere has been met and refuted by Horace Greeley, in the columns of the New York Tribune.

An Illinois editor sent to another "No had refused to exchange with him, paying bearing this inscription: "Exchange or go to —"

The editor thus addressed replied: "I will do neither, for I don't want your paper in this world, nor your company in the next."

A lost cow was lately advertised by the following notice, which was posted on fences and near the owner's dwelling: "Strayed or Stolen—A large red cow, with yellow specks on her left side, and a pair of white specks on her right ear. She is about seven or eight years old, and belongs to a poor widow with a short tail. Ten dollars will be given to anybody who will turn her to Newark, June 17, 1890."

Among our national post-offices are these: Ti Ti Tota, Why not, Pine Stem, Stony Man, Sal Soda, Shickshinny, Snowshoes, Overalls, Lookout, Last Chance, Back Bone, Marrow Bones, Horned Horse, Tally Ho, Tired Creek, and Long-a-coming.

The Chicago Times says: "When President Greeley shall announce his cabinet—supposing Mr. Greeley shall be elected president—the country will know who of the democratic leaders have been most instrumental in selling out the democratic party."

An editor relates how a colored barber made a dead head of him. He offered the usual time for shaving, when the fellow drew himself up proudly, and said: "I understand dat you is an editor." "Well, what of it?" says we. "We neber change editors nuffin." "But, my woolly friend," we continued, "there are a good many editors traveling now-a-days, and such liberality on your part would prove a ruinous business."

"Oh! neber mind," remarked the barber, "we make it up of de geinmen."

Preserved to Death—A healthy liver secretes each day about two and a half pounds of bile, which contains a great amount of waste material taken from the blood. When the liver becomes torpid or congested, this waste material is not eliminated, but accumulates in the blood, and therefore remains in the system. What must be the condition of the blood when it is receiving and retaining each day two and a half pounds of poison? The brain, which is the great thinking center of all vitality, is undoubtedly poisoned by the unhealthy blood, and it fails to perform its office healthfully. Hence the symptoms of bile poisoning, which are dizziness, headache, incapacity to keep the mind on any subject, impairment of memory, nervous sleep, or nervous feelings, gloomy and morbid feelings, and irritability of temper. The blood itself being diseased as it flows up to the surface of the skin, is so impure and poisonous that it produces discolored and brown spots, pimples, blotches and eruptions, sores, boils, carbuncles and scaly tumors. The stomach, bowels, and all other organs cannot escape becoming diseased sooner or later, and constiveness, piles, dyspepsia, indigestion, and chronic diseases, and many other forms of chronic disease, are the necessary results. As a remedy for all these various manifestations of bile poisoning, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is positively unequalled. By its use the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite regulated and renewed, the blood thoroughly purified and renewed, and the whole system renovated and built up anew. Sold by all druggists.

A Delightful Surprise—Ladies whose faces are clouded by superficial discolorations, and who have resolved to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a remedy, have no idea of the wonderful surprise they will receive from their faces after a few applications of this wonderful purifier of the complexion. If, for example, they will scream with rapture on finding that the complexion, whether the bluish or the yellowish, has been removed, and that the face is now of a healthy, rosy, and glowing color, and that the complexion is so improved that it is found to disappear under the tonic operation of this wonderful agent. To say that the complexion disappears, does not, however, convey any idea of the effect produced by this celebrated beautifier. The unsightly complexion, whether diffused over the whole countenance or in spots or patches, is replaced by a uniform, healthy bloom, to which no description can do justice.

Take it, take it on, and keep a taking it; reduce the dose so that it acts as a gentle laxative, and continue it on regularly. It is a tonic, and will strengthen you. It took a long time to confirm your disease and you can't get well in a day. Simon's Liver Regulator, or if persisted in, will cure the most stubborn liver disease. There is no reason about it.

Dr. Kennedy's Hemlock Ointment. The proprietor has by the assistance of eminent physicians and chemists succeeded in utilizing the medicinal properties contained in the oil, pitch and resin of the hemlock tree, and obtained a valuable preparation to be applied as a salve or plaster for rheumatism, cramp, pain or soreness of the back, chest or stomach, piles, salt rheum, scurvy sores, ulcers, bunions, sore corns, frost bites, chilblains, sore breasts & nipples, ringworms, chafing and skin disease of infirmity nature. M. H. Kennedy, Agent, Wholesale and Retail Druggist, Cleveland.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which from continued use brings piles and kindred diseases to a permanent cure. Invalid, nor is it a delectable liquor, which, under the popular name of "bitters," is extensively peddled off on the public as sovereign remedies, but is a most powerful tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba retains all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your liver and system? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scurvy, skin diseases, feline, blotches, eruptions, cancer, &c.

Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action. Have you a dyspeptic stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided, the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Have you weakness of the intestines? You are in danger of chronic diarrhoea or the dreadful inflammation of the bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammation.

Have you weakness of the Urinary or urinary organs? You must procure instantly relief for you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
